Promoting Gender Equality
-- By Vishal Bisen

Nowadays, we can see that women and girls are doing their best in their ways as we can talk about anything. Women represent half of the world's population and also their potential. We can see that by the means of social, economical, political and by the every means they make possible to do.

Promoting gender equality refers to women empowerment that means to making women powerful to make them capable of deciding for themselves. Gender Equality made of two words, Gender and Equality which means to promote and make sense that both men and women hold equal rights and respect towards the society.

Women equality is process that gives power to women to live a happy and respected life in society. History says that women were illiterate because that time women does not allowed to get education and they were used to Suffer from different problems like Honour killing, domestic violence, child marriage and etc.

Women can be empowered by various ways, it can be done through government by their different schemes which promotes Gender Equality, as well as an individual basis. We should promote and encourage the policy of promoting Gender Equality.

The Government has also come up with various schemes like - - Beti Bachao -Beti Padhao, Mahila Shakti Kendra, Working Women hostel. Besides all these as individual we should have to promote Gender equality by forgetting social evils like dowry system, child marriage these small steps are also make big effects.
